

Why Choose WSA?

Choosing where and what to study abroad can involve many decisions. WorldStudentAdvisors provides personalised advice and practical support to help students identify study options that match their academic ambitions, circumstances and budget.

Finding the Right Study Option

WorldStudentAdvisors works with universities offering different study destinations and price points. These include universities in the UK, a UK university campus in Cyprus and a university in Hungary.

Students can also consider flexible hybrid programmes that combine online study with completing part of their studies abroad. This can provide an alternative for students looking for greater flexibility and, in some cases, a more affordable route to an international qualification.

Personalised Advice

Choosing a university should not simply be about finding an available course. WorldStudentAdvisors considers the student's ambitions and circumstances when helping them explore suitable universities and study options.

Affordability is also important. Where available, university tuition discounts can help reduce the overall cost of international study.

Support Throughout Your Journey

Once registered with WorldStudentAdvisors, students receive personal support throughout the application process.

This includes assistance with:

- Preparing application documents
- Managing the university application process
- Visa support

- Ongoing support during their studies

The objective is to provide continuity so that students have someone to turn to as they progress through their study abroad journey.

The Key Message

Studying abroad involves much more than submitting a university application. The right choice should take account of the course, university, destination, costs and the student's individual ambitions and circumstances.
